Some people are so quick to respond. Thank you so much! Here are some web sites that were sent. I am going to try and put together a PP with current information. It may take me awhile, but I will share when it is done.

Any other information on lesson plans or exciting ideas anyone has tested relating to this unit, please share. Have a great day! Thanks again!

Here are a few web sites. Just Google in Teen Pregnancy statistics. Also is a PPT I made last year. It doesn't have everything, but it's a start.

Also, this web site has many good thought provoking activities to do with Teen Pregnancy or Parenting Unit.

I used the budget activity this year, and combined it with another. These ideas were suggested in the No CTE student left behind book last year for Teen Living.

Good Luck.
